Re: Sole source justification for the “Colloidal Borescope System”

AquaVISION is the only company worldwide that sells the “Colloidal Borescope System”. Peter Kearl, President of AquaVISION, invented the “Colloidal Borescope System” and retains all rights to the technology. These rights include the hardware and the software systems that comprise the “Colloidal Borescope System”. AquaVISION is the only source for the downhole tool and the control system that process the video images. In addition, AquaVISION has exclusive rights to the Microsoft based software AquaLITE that collects, analyzes, and displays the groundwater flow data collected by the “Colloidal Borescope System”.

AquaVISION is the sole vendor world wide for the “Colloidal Borescope System” system. If you have any questions regarding the purchase, use, or technical support of the “Colloidal Borescope System”, please call 1.888.830.4004 for further information.

Sincerely,

Peter Kearl
